

The most authoritative complete advisory and information service available to the global crop protection industry, its suppliers and customers

Agranova Alliance Service

Keeping up-to-date with the global crop protection industry

Published by the Agranova Alliance
www.agranova.co.uk

In 2004, Agranova & Allan Woodburn Associates Ltd combined their resources to produce the agrochemical information service, setting the standard in industry analysis and in the provision of competitive intelligence. At a time when the need for well researched, well presented information has never been greater, the Agranova Alliance continues to offer the ultimate package of publications and client support for the global crop protection industry. The annual subscription provides clients with the following publications:

- Ag Chem New Compound Review
- Crop Protection Actives
- Agrochemicals - Executive Review (24th edn) 2013
- Ag Chem Supplementary Report
- Ag Chem Base
- Full back-up consulting service for specific enquiries

All reports supplied both as pdfs as well as bound reports. Internet access is default for databases, but downloadable versions also available.

The Agranova Alliance Service - the complete package of authoritative, timely and reliable advice and information for all those concerned with inventing, developing, marketing or producing crop protection agents
